

First meeting
Junior Ambassadors
Budapest 28. Nov-3 Dec 2014

Every project gives us something new and special. These become a part of us, a part of our personalities.

I've just become a European Junior Ambassador!

The project has lasted only for 5 days, but I've got to know all of the project's participants.

The first time is always the hardest, but in my opinion it was a nice beginning. We've been informed about the details of the project and the goals we want to achieve.

I've never thought that I can be as enthusiastic in a project as I am right now. The coordinator of the project has a lot of good ideas, and an enormous knowledge he would like to share.

'The future is ours' as he said. I support his way of thinking because we are the generation, which can change everything we would like to. We just have to join the forces, and we had the first step with this meeting in Hungary. Of course we had a great time together, we made a lot of photos and laughed a lot, but it's also a serious thing.

We had group exercises, we were speaking about topics like culture, sociality, beta and sports. I found this exercise useful because we spoke in English, we could share our thoughts and impressions and last but not least we could get to know our cultures and each other. It was easy to communicate because they speak English very well,

As I said it was a short time with these fantastic guys, but we don't have to wait too much, only till February.
